

How can you be sure you're doing everything possible to protect your organisation?

The Perpetuity Security Health Check

What challenges does the Health Check address?

Risks and threats, technology, staff behaviour, organisational trends and priorities – they all evolve over time. And, in turn, these impact on your organisation's security strengths and weaknesses.

With a shifting picture, and the demands of day-to-day responsibilities, it can be difficult to make a detailed, completely objective evaluation of current security practices. However, with crime on the increase, failure to do so could prove expensive and damaging.

Perpetuity's Security Health Check can help you get ahead with a quick and cost-effective solution delivered by leading experts that identifies necessary security improvements and potential cost-savings.

John Hall, Security Manager at BMW described our Security Health Check as

"Truly innovative. The Perpetuity Health Check provides the best insight into the effectiveness and value of the security function that I have ever come across. It pinpoints exactly where you are strong and weak and what you need to do."

What are the benefits?

The Health Check provides comprehensive information and recommendations on all aspects of security including access control, information security, use of technology, security personnel, staff awareness and training. Its scope and format facilitate a fast track to:

100% certainty that you are doing everything possible to protect your organisation.

Minimised risk of major loss or incident, damage to reputation, regular minor security breaches.

An action plan completely in tune with your organisation and available resources.

Confidence that you are meeting regulatory requirements relating to public and staff safety, including corporate manslaughter legislation.

Cost savings while also using manpower and technology as effectively as possible.

Invaluable insights into how evolving crime may impact on the risks that you face.

Compelling data for the Board on future actions, indisputable benefits and cost-savings.

How does it work?

One of our highly experienced consultants will visit your organisation and work closely with you so that we fully understand your specific needs.

We will carry out an assessment of your current practices based on over 130 criteria that have been identified as key to truly effective security.

You will then receive easy-to-follow recommendations on how security can be improved, where savings could be made, what your top priorities should be and how best to tackle these. You will also be able to compare your performance with other organisations.

Why Perpetuity?

Perpetuity has unparalleled security knowledge, based on a unique blend of practical security management and consultancy experience along with the extensive research data we have gathered on particular threats and the most effective ways to tackle them.

We have interviewed and undertaken research involving offenders, so our consultants have an in-depth understanding of how they think, what attracts them and what they avoid. We have also interviewed security directors and experts around the world on what makes security effective and how it can add value.

Our Health Check programme is headed by Martin Gill and Ian Hall. Perpetuity Director Martin Gill is well-known as a leading expert in the fields of security and crime prevention. Head of Security Consultancy Ian Hall has extensive experience at a senior level from both ex military and policing backgrounds to corporate security management.

How much will it cost?

The total cost is just £3,000 +VAT for assessing your main site.

There are no additional costs, no hidden extras. We anticipate that our work will save you these costs and more.
